AMERICAN DISPATCHES.

A MONTANA STOCKMAN KILLED BY INDIANS.

Fears of a General Indian Uprising—Military Protection Asked for the settlers—Pullman Makes a Big Offer to the World's Fair Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Congressman Carter, of Montana, to-day received a despatch from Miles City, relating the facts in connection with the Cheyenne upraising. The message states that the Cheyennes killed Mr. Ferguson, a prominent stockman of Custer, and the provocation was the fact that Ferguson had discovered the Indians killing cattle, and reported it to the authorities. It further relates that the lives of the people in the vicinity of the murder are in danger, if the government does not immediately come to their assistance with troops. The scene of the murder is about 60 miles south of Miles City, which is the nearest railroad and telegraph station, and the reservation on which the Indians are located is probably thirty miles from Fort Custer, the nearest military post. Representative Carter and Montana senators have made application to the secretary of war for a detail of troops to go immediately to Cheyenne agency, arrest the murderous savages who are now on the warpath, and see that order is preserved. There is no doubt the request will be granted.

The U. S. Navy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—By the steamer Alameda which arrived from Sydney and Honolulu this morning it is learned that the United States cruiser Charleston reached the latter port of May 29th eight days from San Francisco. The vessel experienced pleasant weather during the trip. The United States steamer Adams has arrived at Honolulu from Pago Pago, Samoa. Everything is quiet at the latter place.

Burnt to Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Word was received last night from Payson, Utah, that a few evenings ago three children of Mr. Beron, living near there, found a can of kerosine. One of them, a boy aged 7, poured the contents into a stove and the oil exploded, setting the boy's clothes on fire, and also firing the clothes of a baby one year old. The boy ran out by some grape vines, where he was found some time later burned to death. The baby was badly burned but will recover.

Mutiny at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The crew of the English cruising steamer Egeria, who had previously had trouble with the officers, refused to work on Good Friday, and shortly after the vessel had left Sydney for a long cruise, twenty-three of the men were placed in irons, and the steamer returned to Sydney, where the mutineers are now being tried.

Given Up the Search.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Hon. Henry Boyle second and youngest son of the the Earle of Shannon, who has been in this city for some time hunting for his lost brother who is heir to the Earldom has returned to New York. Boyle has given up the search and will have to abide by the English law of succession.

Prospect of a Big Strike.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The outcome of the present trouble between Peck & Martin and the labor union bids fair, unless a speedy settlement is reached, to be one of the biggest and most formidable strikes that has taken place in this vicinity since 1886.

Albany Bank Defalcations.

ALBANY, N.Y., June 7.—Further developments in the Albany City Bank defalcation occurred this morning when Anthony Gould was arrested. The complaint was the same as in the case of William Gould arrested some time ago and now out on bail. Anthony was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Mead and bail was fixed at $10,000 with two sureties.

Cunard Line in Difficulty.

NEW YORK, June 7.—It is reported at the barge office this morning that the Cunard Steamship Company has apparently involved itself in a difficulty with the Federal Government. Yesterday Collector Erhardt ordered seven Belgian glass blowers who were declared to be contract laborers to be sent back to Europe on the Umbria. They were put on board this morning and started for Liverpool. Before the ship proceeded far down the bay the Belgians were transferred to a tug and brought back to the wharf of the barge office where they remained all morning. The collector is awaiting instructions from the company.

Pullman Wants the Fair.

NEW YORK, JULE 6.—The World's Chicago special says George M. Pullman has offered to take $5,000,000 of World's Fair bonds, if he is allowed to furnish a site near the city of Pullman for the fair.

A Lawyer of Prowler.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 5.—A case of embezzlement, which occurred several months ago, by which several prominent citizens of Trumbull and surrounding town were victimized out of $50,000, has just come to light. The alleged embezzler is Rollin Beers, son of Lagrande L. Beers, a young lawyer of much promise. It is thought Beers has gone to Canada.

The Oil Octopus' Latest Grab.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Standard Oil Trust purchase has been concluded, whereby it adds to its possessions the property of four of the largest oil producing companies in the United States. These companies are located in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and own oil leases on about 300,000 acres of land. The capital of these companies foots up to over $8,000,000.

The Coal Trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—In his weekly review of the coal market, J.W. Harrison to-day says: "During the past week 14,270 tons of coal have arrived from the coast mines and 3825 tons from Australia. There is a stronger feeling in the market, due partly to the advance asked on freights on coal from Australia, but principally as the trouble at the Wellington mines has not yet been settled. There has been no imports of coal from England whatever for several months and during the past two months only 26,000 tons have arrived from Australia. Notwithstanding this, however, there is no apparent shortage in the coal market."

Patrolling Behring Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Chronicle this morning says: "The story from British Columbia to the effect that the sealers have arranged to pursue the business of stealing seals with the aid of a swift sailing steamer, has the air of probability about it. The cruisers of the United States in Behring Sea are lamentably slow tubs, and a moderately fast boat could sail away from them. A couple of years ago we made ourselves ridiculous by manning prizes captured taking seals with insufficient crews with the result of the captured running away with the captors. It would not be a very creditable thing is this mismanagement were paralelled by patrolling a disputed sea with vessels incapable of overhauling a second rate steamer. If we intend to maintain our position we should at least do so in a different manner. The United States is growing too large a nation to be made a laughing stock, as it will be if it cannot enforce its proclamations."

The Italian Minister Recalled.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—It is reported here that Baron Fava, the Italian minister, has been recalled by his government because of his sympathy with and encouragement of the padrone system and his alleged connection with the importation of contract labor from Italy in violation of the laws of the United States. Nothing is known about the matter at the state department and it is said that no complaint whatever has been made against the baron. An Italian philanthropist and agitator has been making war on Fava, it is said, for several years, and has repeatedly preferred charges against him to the Italian government. He says he has cable information from Italy that the recall was sent to Fava two or three weeks ago.

Silver Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The silver bill passed the House at 4 o'clock. Yeas 135; nays 119.

THE RUSH SAILS NORTH.

British Seal Poachers Will Be Shy of Behring Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The United States steamer Rush to-day sailed on a long cruise. She is in command of Captain Coulson. Her campaign has not been fully mapped out, but her sailing orders require her to proceed to Behring Sea, where she will probably perform patrol duty. One of her officers said that he expected that very few seizures would be made this season. The Government had assumed a positive attitude that could not be misinterpreted and that very few carpet-bagging sealers and fishers would attempt to risk seizure by following up their illegal fishing.

SAN FRANCISCO'S POPULATION.

About 350,000 Human Beings, Including 15,000 Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Supervisor Davis estimates the population of this city at 356,000, with a Chinese population of 20,000. The enumerators, he thinks, will return only 15,000, as a great many are now out of town, working on farms and orchards. The school census of this city was complete this evening and the report has been forwarded to the superintendent of public instruction at Sacramento. The report shows a total of 84,531 children under 17 years of age, 61,140 of whom are between 5 and 17.

CLEOPATRA'S SKELETON.

An Effort to Sell it to the World's Fair Directors as a Curio.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Alexander Tagliaferro of Alexandria, Egypt, writes to the Directors of the World's Fair that he is in a position to furnish them with an interesting exhibit. He has sent the officials photographs of a sarcophagus which he believes and claims is that of Cleopatra. It was recently discovered in Cesar's camp, near Alexandria, by archeologists.

After paying the Egyptian Government its dues the writer says that he sold it to a friend for speculation. When the sarcophagus was opened its contents fell in ashes with the exception of a skeleton, which is still preserved.

Tagliaferro says that he is prompted to negotiate with the Exposition authorities from the notices in the newspapers announcing that the Khedive of Egypt has been asked by the Directors of the Exposition for the mummy of Rameses. His price is $80,000, free on board at Alexandria.

THE OCEAN STEAMERS.

The C. P. R. Will Resume Service Between Vancouver and San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Chas. T. Crocker, General Manager of the Occidental and Oriental S. S. Co., states that according to advices received from Hong Kong, the office of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company have decided to resume service between San Francisco and Vancouver. If this is done a war of rates will certainly follow, the former steamers being low. Two years ago the Canadian Pacific withdrew their steamers from San Francisco, because of a similar war at that time. The Canadian Pacific and Occidental companies had signed an agreement to maintain rates and keep out of each other's territory. General Traffic Manager Rice, of the Pacific Mail and Occidental and O. S. S. Co., states with regard to the Suez lines that the Peninsular and Oriental line contemplate such rates. If this prove true, Rice says the trans-Pacific rates on through business to the Atlantic seaboard will go away down.

HOME AND FOREIGN.

RUMOR THAT SIR CHAS. TUPPER WILL RETURN TO CANADA

To Again Unravel the Fishery Muddle—The Sum Unequal to so Great a Task—Garrisons Needed on the Coast of Africa to Stop the Slave Trade.

LONDON, June 7.—Justice Butt has awarded £7,500 to the steamer Aldersgate, and £6,000 to the steamer Ohio, as salvage for their aid in saving the steamship City of Paris.

Tupper's Return to Canada.

OTTAWA, June 7.—It is stated that Sir Charles Tupper is returning to Canada because of the Newfoundland dispute. The fact is that last week Sir John Macdonald cabled to Sir Charles that his presence at Ottawa is imperative if negotiations in connection with the Atlantic fisheries and Behring Sea question are to be continued. Every effort on the part of Mr. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to secure anything approaching a settlement has failed. He has informed Sir John of his inability to accomplish anything at Washington. A high official in the marine and fisheries department said to-day: "Annexation with the United States is the inevitable destiny of Canada. I am convinced that Sir Charles Tupper's visit to Ottawa and Washington in connection with the fishery and Behring Sea disputes will be productive of good results, and the government knows it."

Temperance Demonstration.

LONDON, June 7.—To-day the biggest temperance demonstration ever organized was held in Hyde Park, and denounced the publicans and the pensions bill. Large delegations from the distant provincial towns were in attendance. One of the most useful contingents was the Roman Catholic, to whom Cardinal Manning addressed a few words of advice before they marched. Support from the advanced wing of the Church of England was also added.

The Slave Traffic.

BERLIN, June 7.—In letters received from Wissmann the opinion expressed is that the mere patrolling of the African coast by cruisers will not suppress the slave trade. He declares the establishment of garrisons along the coast line is an imperative condition to a successful suppression of the traffic.

Territorial Negotiations.

LONDON, June 7.—The Berlin correspondent of the Telegraph says: During the absence of the British minister the former territorial negotiations continue, and up to the present have been amicably conducted.

Parliamentary Gossip.

LONDON, June 6.—As a result of the cabinet council held yesterday, the Government announces its resolve to adjourn the present session of parliament at the end of July until the middle of October. The Government also propose that a grand committee of the House proceed with the consideration of the land purchase, titles and licensing bills co-jointly, and further propose that a new standing order be adopted, enabling the House to resume work on the unpassed bills at the next session from the stage reached in the preceeding one. Mr. Goschen announced in the House to-night that Mr. Smith would shortly make proposals requiring an autumn recess.

A Great Earthquake Predicted.

VIENNA, June 7.—Professor Falb, the great astromer, who predicted the great earthquake in Germany in 1870, and who a few days ago said that this month would witness upheavals in Mount Etna, predicts a terrible European earthquake on June 17th. The basis of his predictions is on his theory which has so frequently been proven correct, that when eruptions are about due the moon exerts a peculiar influence on volcanoes.

Everyone Must Train.

BERLIN, June 7.—The minister of war to-day announced to the military committee of the Reichtag that a bill would be introduced by the Government for the construction of strategical railways, and for the training of reserves, the use of the new rifles, also the appropriation for the further equipment of the arm. He declared that no one capable of bearing arms should cease training when he had completed his term of office. The government had only decided upon the main features of the measure concerning the reserves. The demands contained in the military bill were small compared with those of the French Government. He added that the government meant a still further increase of the peace footing by 49,000 men, or more than the present bill provides.

NEWFOUNDLAND HULLABALLOO

Declarations of the French Commander Who Kicked up the Row.

SYDNEY, Cape Breton June 5.—The French war ship Indre, whose commander kicked up such a rumpus on the coast of Newfoundland by ordering native fishermen to make room for Frenchmen, has arrived here. Her commander says the rights of French fishermen on the Newfoundland coast have been established by treaty and recognized for 200 years. It has been the custom when the natives occupied the fishing grounds to request the British war ships to cause them to make room done. In this case there were no British war ships to call on, so the French commander made the order direct. Not more than a dozen seines are removed from the bay of St. George. The commander declared that it is entirely a political hullaballoo.

LONDON, June 5.—In the House of Commons, this evening, Sir James Ferguson, foreign secretary, stated that the Government were in receipt of official cablegrams showing that there had been no landing of French armed forces at St. George bay, or elsewhere in Newfoundland or Nova Scotia. The commander of the French ship had requested the removal of certain nets, which request he was justified in making. No threats had been made, nor had there been any refusal to pay taxes, although a resolution to that effect had been voted.

ONTARIO FLOODED.

Heavy Rains Cause Considerable Damage—Barrie Submerged.

TORONTO, June 6.—Disastrous floods are reported from all parts of the province owing to the recent heavy rains. At Barrie the main drain caved in on Wednesday, and was of no use to assist in carrying away the tremendous flow that came down the hills and roads like rivers. All the streets forming the central portion of the town are completely submerged, and the principal business thoroughfare presents an awful sight. The water is fully two feet deep, and stores are flooded. The chasm at present is fully fifty feet wide, and the vast body of water has washed everything into the bay. The railway track is washed away and traffic is blocked. Freight cars have been washed into the bay. The rainfall was phenomenal, and the estimated loss to the town is placed at about $50,000.

GREENWOOD, June 6.—The most disastrous freshet ever known occurred here last evening. For the past two nights a terrific thunder storm raged and the waters were high, but the climax was reached when four small dams north of this place gave way. The roads are submerged, cellars flooded, bridges carried away, and the telegraph wires broken. Timber and trees are floating in all directions. A number of cattle and horses were carried away.

LONDON, June 6.—Part of the embankment on the main line of the Grand Trunk, between Komoka and London, gave way last night, caused by the action of recent heavy rains. Through trains are being sent around by St. Thomas without much delay. The road will be repaired in three days.

SCHOMBERG, June 6.—In consequence of the heavy rain yesterday, and the sweeping away of two heavy mill dams the village of Schomberg sustained a heavy loss. Business and private dwellings were swept away by the flood, leaving the occupants homeless and in destitute circumstances. The total loss is estimated at $13,000 or more.

BROOKLYN, June 6.—A cloud burst struck near here yesterday, swelling the creek to the proportions of a river. Six bridges and nearly all the mill in the township were swept away. The railroad was washed out, cutting off rail communication. Several barns and other outbuildings went down in the flood, and great damage was done all over the township. Loss, $25,000.

TORONTO, June 6.—Great damage is reported by the floods from Port Hope, Pickering, Owen Sound, Tottenham and Bowmanville. Many bridges and manufacturing establishments have been wrecked and bridges washed away.

INTEREST TO PROHIBITIONISTS.

If all the Water on the Earth Evaporates What Shall we Drink?

St. Louis Republic.

To the inundated resident of the states of the lower Mississippi valley it will, no doubt, seem like rankest folly to attempt to prove that our water supply is becoming less and less year by year. There is, however, evidence that the amount of water on the surface of the earth has been steadily diminishing for many thousands of years. No one doubts that there was a time when the Caspian sea communicated with the Black sea, and when the Mediterranean covered the greater part of the desert of Sahara. In fact, geologists tell us that at one time the whole of the earth's surface was covered with water many fathoms in depth.

All rivers and small streams are visibly smaller than they were 25 years ago. Country brooks in which men now living were accustomed to fish and bathe in their boyhood have in many cases, totally disappeared in consequence of the failure of springs and rains which once fed them. The level of the great lakes is falling year by year. There are many piers on the shores of lakeside cities which vessels once approached with ease, but which now reach the water's edge. Harbor surveyors will tell you that all harbors are shallower than they were even a decade ago. This is not due to the gradual deposit of earth brought down by rivers as some may suppose, nor to the refuse from city sewers. The harbor of Toronto has almost ceased to be of use, despite the fact that it has been dredged out to the permanent bottom rock.

All the dredging that can be done in New York harbor has failed to permanently deepen it. The growing shallowness of Hudson river is noticeable, and, like the outlet to Lake Champlain, which was once navigated by Indian canoes at all seasons, the upper Hudson is now almost bare of water during summer. The Des Moines river, in Iowa, once navigated to the mouth of the Raccoon Fork, the present site of the city of Des Moines, will now hardly float a fisherman's rowboat; the steamboat has not ploughed its bosom for over a quarter of a century. In all parts of the world there is the same decrease in the waters of rivers and lakes. If this state of affairs continues until the year 2,000,000 A.D., the water question will be of more interest than the silver question.

THE LEADERS CONTRASTED.

TO THE EDITOR.—Covering a period of two decades the community of this fair city should feel elated that in their midst dwells one that has done more legislative labor than any other member of this commonwealth. The marked, generous and unwavering support of his fellow citizens needs no comment other than the unbounded confidence reposed in so indispensable a legislator. Favored with an acute and astute mind, competent to grasp the legal requirements of all measures, unswerving in devotion to the best interests of this city, applying steadily and earnestly the knowledge gained during so long a period, in active legislative life, ever advocating the rights of the masses against the classes with clear conceptions of moral obligations, Robert Beaven towers to-day as the intellectual giant, compared with the imbecile pigmies that hold the reigns of government. Can any candid observer fail to acknowledge the superiority of attainments this unblemished champion of right possesses. During his long, faithful service given in his country's behalf the bitterest political opponent cannot find a stain that soils his political togs. This cannot be said without warping the truth in favor of those now dividing the loaves and fishes in the Government family of mutual agreements. It is not necessary to view, seriatum, labors performed in the legislative councils. The records will establish that during the whole of his career, you cannot find another that has been so watchful of this city's interest, combined with that of the wilde province. Take for instance the Western Railway Bill of 1889, a government measure. It remained for Robert Beaven to move that no subsidy be granted unless the "Western" made a connection with this city. Ever vigilant in battling for Victoria, seldom missing from his seat, at all times courteous in language and gentlemanly in debate, standing fearlessly by his convictions, it is no disparagement in claiming that Robert Beaven has no equal in straightforward honorable political efforts in the legislative hall of the Province of British Columbia. As an example of morality, it would add to the credit of many occupying chairs on the floor of the House to follow in his footsteps. In every position of life in which the mirror may be turned no reflection detrimental to the crowning glory of manhood,—namely, honesty of purpose,—will cast its shadow upon the escutcheon of Robert Beaven. Infallibility is beyond the limit of a finite being, yet an approach to perfection loses nothing in the effort. It is man's prerogative to raise above his fellows, by the cultivation of a higher sphere of mental attainments, and if bent in the direction of improving his sex, it is commendable and laudatory. Yet carpers and demagogues, having neither ability or sense, upbraid the superior mind, in not being dragged down to the level of their impoverished, addle-pated, misconceived, vainglorious, brainless abortions of rhetorical balderdash. The absurdity of placing men so poorly balanced in brain to represent an intelligent constituency is past belief. This age of progress demands better material than those allied to monopolists. The present Government are not the friends of labor, notwithstanding the frothing declamation of their fourth-rate orators nor is it a stretch of imagination to say that the laboring classes are cognizant of this fact. The champions of labor are arrayed side by side with Robert Beaven, whose past record is a safe guarantee that their cause will ever receive proper treatment at his and their hands. This is no idle claim. Records are the indisputable witnesses. In returning this veteran legislator, Victoria will be doing that which common sense dictates and justice demands. The success of the Opposition in this city is not a matter of doubt, the handwriting is as plain as holy writ. The heaven-born instinct of self-preservation is kindled in every thinking mind; its incense will aid in purifying the corrupt venality that enriches the few to the detriment of the many. Its thunder tones will reverberate throughout the Province, calling on the bone and sinew of the land to become united in a determined effort to dislodge the enemies of representative government. Laborers, let no false sentiment sway you from your own interest; be true to yourselves, and faithful to your honest convictions. Cast your ballots for those who are struggling in behalf of the toiling masses. The issues now pending demand this course of action. Save yourselves from further encroachments of the combination, now banded by ties of knell to monopoly in natural opportunities. It is in favor of labor and against idleness and plunder. Let every thoughtful voter ask himself this question: Have the injustice and robbery of labor been produced by the Single Tax? No, but by that system of taxation that is supported by the Colonist. Therefore the Colonist is the friend of injustice and the bitter enemy of the laborer. Workingmen are better qualified to pass judgment upon economic principals that affect their interests than the class represented by Mr. Lawson of the Colonist.

The Knights of Labor is beyond everything else a workingman's society. Here is the fourth plank in their platform: "That the land, including all natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people, and should not be subject to speculative traffic. Occupancy and use should be the only title to the possession of land. Taxes upon land should be levied upon its full value for use, exclusive of improvements, and should be sufficient to take for the community all the unearned increments."

Workingmen, here is a plank from your own society. It is the result of a long and careful deliberation of the most thoughtful men from the working classes, upon a subject that is to them paramount to all other subjects. The trades council of Canada have declared for the Single Tax. The concensus of opinion from representative labor organizations is decidedly for the Single Tax, and yet that verbose editor of the Colonist has the effrontery to say in effect to workingmen, "you are fools," you don't want the single tax, what you need are taskmasters, land monopoly, starvation wages, tenement houses where human beings are packed together like sardines, soup houses, tramps, starving children, sewing girls working for such a pittance that they are forced to sell their virtue in order to exist. Millionaires, railroad kings, bondage, tyranny, and government for the monopolists and by the monopolists and all the other abominations that follow in their train. Colonist man, we can't take your advice. You are, like the reptiles that allure the unwary bird by a fascinating movement of a poisonous tongue. The allurement is to destruction. You are to-day trying to allure the unwary workingmen of this city by poisoning their minds with falsehoods and misrepresentations. If you succeed, their fate will be analagous to the fate of those birds that are destroyed by the monster reptile who when alluring them dons the garb of friendship.

In New York there, is a flock of anarchists, that opposes the Single Tax. This side of New York I only know of two prominent men who bitterly oppose the Single Tax. Those two men are Willis Bond, the Tory orator, and Mr. Lawson, the editor of the Colonist, the Tory writer. Let the champions of the system that robs labor go on; let them bolster it up by sophistry, or appealing to the prejudices of those who give no time to a careful study of a question. Yet the system must perish. They may cover it up with the most eloquent phrases peculiar to the English language, but like the ivy that covers rotten timber, beneath lie death and decay. The Government are in a bad fix for insulting the workingmen by ignoring their meeting. They are now doing their best to prejudice the workingmen against Grant and Beaven. The tables have turned the wrong way. They are sick and may be sicker on the evening of the 18th. So far as the Single Tax goes, we can't consider it from any other than a local standpoint. It is not within our power to legislate on this question beyond the limits of local government. The Single Tax, in a nut shell, is to raise all revenue from a single tax on land values, exclusive of improvements. The Colonist claims that Henry George proposes to rob men of their earnings. I will close this letter with a quotation from an Australian paper, the Penny Post, where the rights of labor are more generally recognized and where people are more advanced than in any other part of the world, and allow the workingmen to conclude as to who is the most impartial judge of Mr. George and the system he proposes.

"He has brought us face to face with the clearest and most sharply curved issue that ever inspired the friend of oppressed humanity. It is to the industrial slave of our inverted civilization what the battle cry of Clarkson and Wilberforce was to the West Indian slaves, or that of William Lloyd Garrison to the negro chattels of the Southern States of the republic. It is the battle cry of liberty to the captive and organization to the oppressed. Just now, as might be naturally expected, Mr. George and the principles he has come to expound are subjected to a convergent fire of criticism, but there is absolutely nothing new advanced, nothing that was not foreseen and answered in "Progress and Poverty." What Henry George has done has been to carry into economics the same spirit of analysis that Bacon carried into philosophy and Newton into astronomy."

Our system of taxation was recognized by the poet Goldsmith when he wrote:

Ill fares the land to threatening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay;
Princes and lords may flourish or may fade,
A breath can make them as a breath has made,
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride,
When once destroyed can never be supplied.

SINGLE TAX.

TO THE EDITOR.—The Colonist is trying to scare the men who own their own homes, by misrepresenting the Single Tax. The true object of the Single Tax is to give all working men an opportunity to secure land on which to build a home and make for themselves a comfortable home. The true object of the class represented by the Colonist is to bring about in this country which now prevails in Ireland. The powerful monopolies which are developing in this country threaten the liberties and rights of the working classes, and if we allow this state of things to go on without offering a remedy and calling a halt, we are untrue to the great trust committed to our care. We are not asking for a system that will rob workingmen of their homes, but on the contrary are asking for a system by which it will be possible for every industrious working man to have a home, without being taxed for his improvements. The Single Tax is the death

SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE TALKS OF THE SWORD AND ITS MISSION.

His Text Isaiah xxxiv, 5: "My Sword Shall Be Bathed in Heaven"—Discourse Before the Thirteenth Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 1.—Chaplain T. DeWitt Talmage this evening preached the annual sermon before the Thirteenth regiment, in the Academy of Music. The staff officers and members of the regiment were immediately in front of the platform, and their friends thronged the galleries. The hymn sung was the national air:

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty.

The subject of the sermon was: "The Sword—Its Mission and Its Doom." The text, Isaiah xxxiv, 5: "My sword shall be bathed in heaven."

Three hundred and fifty-one times does the Bible speak of that sharp, keen, curved, inexorable weapon, which flashes upon us from the text—the sword. Sometimes the mention is applaudatory and sometimes lamentory, sometimes as drawn, sometimes as sheathed. In the Bible, and in much secular literature, the sword represents all javelins, all muskets, all carbines, all guns, all police clubs, all battle axes, all weaponry for physical defense or attack. It would be an interesting thing to give the history of the Plow, and follow its furrow all down through the ages, from the first crop in Chaldea to the last crop in Minnesota. It would be interesting to follow the Pen as it has tracked its way on down through the literature of nations, from its first word in the first book to the last word which some author last night wrote as he closed his manuscript. It would be an interesting thing to count the echoes of the Hammer from the first nail driven, down through all the mechanisms of centuries to the last stroke in the carpenter's shop yesterday. But in this, my annual sermon as chaplain of the Thirteenth regiment, I propose talking of a Weapon that has slain more than all other weapons put together, and will slay more than all other weapons put together. Neither Plow nor Pen nor Hammer ever accomplished. My theme is the sword—its mission and its doom.

A SWORD OF RIGHTEOUSNESS.

The sword of the text was bathed in heaven; that is, it was a sword of righteousness, as another sword may be bathed in hell, and the sword of cruelty and wrong. There is a great difference between the sword of Winkleried and the sword of Catiline, between the sword of Leonidas and the sword of Benedict Arnold. In our effort to hasten the end of war, we have hung the sword, with abuses and execrations, when it has had a divine mission, and when in many crises of the world's history it has swung for liberty and justice, civilization and righteousness and God. At the very opening of the Bible and on the east side of the Garden of Eden God placed a flaming sword to defend the tree of life. Of the officer of the law St. Paul declares: "He beareth not the sword in vain." Through Moses God commanded: "Put every man his sword by his side." David in his prayer says: "Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty." One of the old battle shouts of the Old Testament was, "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon." Christ, in a great exigency, said that such a weapon was more important than a coat, for he declared: "He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Again he declared: "I come not to send peace but a sword." Of Christ's second coming it is said: "Out of his mouth went a sharp, two edged sword." Thus, sometimes figuratively, but oftener literally, the divine mission of the sword is announced.

What more consecrated thing in the world than Joshua's sword, or Caleb's sword, or Gideon's sword, or David's sword, or Washington's sword, or Marion's sword, or Lafayette's sword, or Wellington's sword, or Kosciusko's sword, or Garibaldi's sword, or hundreds of thousands of American swords that have again and again been bathed in heaven. Swords of that kind have been the best friends of the human race. They have slain tyrannies, pried open dungeons, and cleared the way for nations in their march upward. It was better for them to take the sword and be free, than lie under the oppressor's heel and suffer. There is something worse than death, and that is life if it must cringe and crouch before the wrong. Turn over the leaves of the world's history, and find that there has never been a tyranny stopped or a nation liberated except by the sword. I am not talking to you about the way things ought to be, but about the way they have been. What force drove back the Saracens at Tours, and kept Europe from being overwhelmed by Mohammedanism, and, subsequently, all America given over to Mohammedanism? The sword of Charles Martel and his men. Who can deal enough in infinities to tell what was accomplished for the world's good by the sword of Joan of Arc?

In December last I looked off and saw in the distance the battlefield of Marathon, and I asked myself what was it that, on that most tremendous day in history, stopped the Persian hosts, representing not only Persia, but Egypt, and Tripoli, and Afghanistan, and Beloochistan, and Armenia; a host that had Asia under foot and proposed to put Europe under foot, and, if successful in that battle, would have submerged by Asiatic barbarism European civilization, and, as a consequence in after time, American civilization? The swords of Miltiades, and Themistocles, and Aristides. At the waving of these swords the eleven thousand lancers of Athens on the run dashed against the one hundred thousand insolent Persians, and trampled them down or pushed them back into the sea. The sword of that day saved the best part of the hemispheres, a trinity of keen steel flashing in the two lights—the light of the setting sun of barbarism, the light of the rising sun of civilization. Hail to those three great swords bathed in heaven!

THE SWORD'S WORK FOR GOOD.

What put an end to infamous Louis XVI's plan of universal conquest, by which England would have been made to kneel on the steps of the Tuileries and the Anglo-Saxon race would have been halted and all Europe paralyzed? The sword of Marlborough, at Blenheim. Time came when the Roman war eagles, whose beaks had been punched into the hearts of nations, must be brought down from their eyries. All other attempts had disgracefully failed, but the Germans, the mightiest nation for brawn and brain, undertook the work, and, under God, succeeded. What drove back the Roman cavalry till the horses, wounded, flung their riders and the last rider perished, and the Hercynian forest became the scene of Rome's humiliation? The sword, the brave sword, the triumphant sword of Arminius.

While passing through France last January my nerves tingled with excitement and I rose in the car, the better to see the battlefield of Chalons, the mounds and breastworks still visible, though nearly five hundred years ago they were shoveled up. Here, Attila, the heathen marauder, called by himself the "Scourge of God for the punishment of Christians," his life a massacre of nations, came to ignominious defeat, and he put into one great pile the wooden saddles of his cavalry, and the spoils of the cities and kingdoms he had sacked, and placed on top of this holocaust the women who had accompanied him in his devastating march, ordering that the torch be put to the pile. What power broke that sword, and stayed that red scourge of cruelty that was rolling over Europe? The sword of Theodoric and Actius.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE UNITED STATES.

To come down to later ages, all intelligent Englishmen unite with all intelligent Americans in saying that it was the best thing that the American colonies swung off from the government of Great Britain. It would have been the worst absurdity of 4,000 years if this continent should have continued in loyalty to a throne on the other side of the sea. No one would propose a governor general for the United States as there is a governor general for Canada. We have had splendid queens in our American capital, but we could hardly be brought to support a queen on the other side of the Atlantic, lovely and good as Victoria is. The only use we have for earls and lords and dukes in this country is to treat them well when they pass through to their hunting grounds in the far west, or, when their fortunes have failed, re-enforce them by wealthy matrimonial alliance. Imagine this nation yet a part of English possessions! The trouble the mother country has today with Ireland would be a paradisaic condition compared with the trouble she would have with us. England and the United States make excellent neighbors, but the two families are too large to live in the same house. What a godsend that we should have parted, and parted long ago! But I can think of no other way in which we could have possibly achieved American independence. George III, the half crazy king, would not have let us go. Lord North, his prime minister, would not have let us go. Gen. Lord Cornwallis would not have let us go, although marked "Unknown," yet who were just as self sacrificing and brave as any of their major generals, and whose resting places all up and down the banks of the Androscoggin, the Hudson, the Potomac, the Mississippi and the Alabama, have recently been snowed under with white flowers typical of resurrection, and strewn with red flowers commemorative of the carnage through which they passed, and the blue flowers illustrative of the skies through which they ascended.

THE SWORD IS DOOMED.

But the sword is doomed. There is one word that needs to be written in every throne room, in every war office, in every navy yard, in every national council. That word is Disarmament. But no government can afford to throw its sword away until all the great governments have agreed to do the same. Through the influence of the recent convention of North and South American governments at Washington, and through the peace convention to be held next July in London, and other movements in which prime ministers, and kings, and queens, and sultans, and czars shall take part, all civilized nations will come to disarmament, and if a few barbarian races decline to quit war, then all the decent nations will send out a force of continental police to wipe out from the face of the earth the miscreants.

But until disarmament and consequent arbitration shall be agreed to by all the great governments, any single government that dismantles its fortresses, and spikes its guns, and breaks its sword, would simply invites its own destruction. Suppose, before such general agreement, England should throw away her sword; think you France has forgotten Waterloo? Suppose before such general agreement, Germany should throw away her sword; how long would Alsace and Lorraine stay as they are? Suppose the czar of Russia before any such general agreement should throw away his sword; all the eagles and vultures and lions of European power would gather for a piece of the Russian bear. Suppose the United States without any such general agreement of disarmament should throw away her sword; it would not be long before the Narrows of our harbor would be ablaze with the hunting of foreign navies coming here to show the folly of the "Monroe doctrine."

ALL MUST ARM TILL ALL DISARM.

Side by side the two movements must go. Complete armament until all agree to disarmament. At the same command of "Halt!" all nations halting. At the same command of "Ground arms!" all muskets thumping. At the same command of "Break ranks!" all armies disbanding. That may be nearer than you think. The standing army is the nightmare of nations. England wants to get rid of it, Germany is being eaten up by it, Russia is almost taxed to death with it. Suppose that the millions of men belonging to the standing armies of the world, and in absolute idleness, for the most part of their lives, should become producers, instead of consumers. Would not the world's prosperities improve, and the world's morals be better? Or have you the Neathenish idea that war is necessary to kill off the surplus populations of the earth, and that without it the world would be so crowded there would soon be no reserved seats and even the standing room would be exhausted? Ah! I think we can trust to the pneumonias, and the consumptions, and the fevers, and the Russian grippes to kill the people fast enough.

Beside that, when the world gets too full God will blow up the whole concern and start another world and a better one. Beside that, war kills the people who can least be spared. It takes the pick of the nations. Those whom we could easily spare to go to the front, are in the penitentiary, and their duties detain them in that limited sphere. No; it is the public spirited and the valorous who go out to die. Mostly are they young men. If they were aged, and had only five or ten years at the most to live, the sacrifice would not be so great. But it is those who have forty or fifty years to live who step into the jaws of battle. In our war Col. Ellsworth fell while yet a mere lad. Renowned McPherson was only 35. Magnificent Reynolds was only 43. Hundreds of thousands fell between twenty and thirty years of age. I looked into the faces of the French and German troops as they went out to fight at Sedan, and they were for the most part armies of splendid boys. So in all ages war has preferred to sacrifice the young. Alexander the Great died at 33. When war slays the young it not only takes down that which they are, but that which they might have been.

THE GOOD TIME COMING.

So we are glad at the Isaiahic prophecy, that the time is coming when nation shall not lift up sword against nation. Indeed, both swords shall go back into the scabbard—the sword bathed in heaven and the sword bathed in hell. In a war in Spain a soldier went on a skirmishing expedition, and, secluded in a bush, he had the opportunity of shooting a soldier of the other army who had strolled away from his rank. He took aim and dropped him. Bounding up to the fallen man he took his knapsack for spoil, and a letter dropped out of it, and it turned out to be a letter signed by his own father; in other words, he had shot his brother. If the brotherhood of man be a true doctrine, then he who shoots another man always shoots his own brother. What a horror is war and its cruelties were well illustrated when the Tartars, after sweeping through Russia and Poland, displayed with pride nine great sacks filled with the right ears of the killed, and when a correspondent of The London Times, writing of the wounded after the battle of Sedan, said: "Every moan that the human voice can utter rose from that heap of agony, and the cries of 'Water! For the love of God, water! A doctor! A doctor!' never ceased."

After war has wrought such cruelties, how glad we will be to have the Old Monster himself die. Let his dying couch be spread in some dismantled fortress through which the stormy winds howl. Give him for a pillow a battered shield, and let his bed be hard with the rusted bayonets of the slain. Cover him with the coarsest blanket that picket ever wore, and let his only cup be the bleached bone of one of his warchargers, and the last taper by his bedside expire as the midnight blast sighs into his ear: "The candle of the wicked shall be put out."

To-night against the sky of the glorious future I see a great blaze. It is a foundry in full blast. The workmen have stirred the fire until the furnaces are seven times heated. The last wagon load of the world's swords has been hauled into the foundry, and they are tumbled into the furnaces, and they begin to glow and redden and melt, and in blazing and sparkling liquid they roll on down through the crevice of rock until they fall into a mold shaped like the iron foot of a plow. Then the liquid cools off into a hard metal, and, brought out on an anvil, it is beaten and pounded and fashioned, stroke after stroke, until that which was a weapon to reap harvests of men becomes an implement turning the soil for harvests of corn, the sword having become the plowshare.

Officers and comrades of the Thirteenth regiment of state militia: After another year of pleasant acquaintance I hail you with a salutation all made up of good wishes and prayers. Honored with confidence in the best city of the best land under the sun, let us dedicate ourselves anew to God and country and home! In the English conflict called "The War of the Roses," a white rose was the badge of the house of York, and the red rose the badge of the house of Lancaster, and with these two colors they opposed each other in battle. To enlist you in the Holy War for all that is good against all that is wrong, I pin over your heart two badges, the one suggestive of the blood shed for our redemption, and the other symbolic of a soul made white and clean—the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley. Be these henceforth our regimental symbols—Rose and Lily, Lily and Rose!

VICTORIA CITY ELECTION

The Opposition Candidates.

ROBERT BEAVEN,
JOHN GRANT,
GEORGE L. MILNE,
FRANK G. RICHARDS, Jr.

JOHN ROBSON'S GREATEST BLUNDER.

Far be it from us to offer any remarks which would detract from Mr. COTTON'S chances of election. Mr. COTTON is a journalist, one of the guild of the "art preservative," and a "fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind." Besides, to be candid, we are of the opinion that editors are as much entitled to a share of the "flesh pots" as lawyers; the public is under great obligations to the journalistic fraternity. Furthermore, aside from the fact that Mr. COTTON is a journalist, we can endorse him as a person whose mental endowments well qualify him for the responsible function of a legislator. But while we concede all these things of Mr. COTTON, regard him of the little coterie of Independents the flower of the flock, there is a fly in the ointment of his political faith; his "independence" is circumscribed to the single article of Redistribution. Outside of that for aught we can see the political GAMALIEL at whose feet he worships is in the person of the Hon. JOHN ROBSON. Mr. COTTON, in a recent speech, declared that "while strongly opposed to the Redistribution Bill, he considered that, if elected, he would be acting foolishly and against the interests of the city if he took a stand as an out and out Oppositionist. He would work in the interests of the city, and make the Government understand that the representatives of Vancouver were not obstructionists and agitators. "When the census had been taken and all the facts were before the Government, if they did not then give a just measure of representation to this city, he (Mr. COTTON) would then take a most decided stand against the Government and do his best to turn them out of power." We could have wished that Mr. COTTON had enunciated a little broader platform. The interests of Vancouver, we know are important, but they do not embody the interests of the entire Province. It is desirable that Vancouver should be well represented, but it is not desirable that the political vision of her representatives should be confined to municipal limits, nor is it desirable as Mr. COTTON'S remarks would seem to imply, that aside from Redistribution, he should abjectly support the Government that Vancouver's interests may be subserved. Nor would we have Mr. COTTON go into the House an out and out supporter of the Opposition. It is within the limits of probability that something might emanate from the Government that was not a blunder and in such a case we would have Mr. COTTON endorse it. Possibly this is exactly what Mr. COTTON means as an Independent. His published speeches, however, do not so indicate. Con them as much as we may, and aside from Redistribution his independence of the Government is not visible or if it is it is shadowy, vague, of the kind which Vancouver's interests taken care of will readily incorporate with Robsonianism without reference to provincial interests. Candidly we see no reason why the Hon. JOHN ROBSON should not support Mr. COTTON instead of dinging mud at him. They differ apparently only in the matter of Redistribution and the Hon. JOHN promises to rectify that at his first opportunity. To all intents and purposes we have therefore in Mr. COTTON a good Government candidate. Just so soon as Honest JOHN concedes to give Vancouver the representation to which she claims she is entitled, he and Mr. COTTON will clasp hands across the "bloody chasm" and and there will be harmony in the Government camp. If the Hon JOHN ROBSON had an ounce of descretion to a pound of blunder he would endorse Mr. COTTON. His failure to do so is the greatest blunder he has yet perpetrated.

MR. TURNER AS A CHINESE ADVOCATE.

Mr. TURNER always consistently voted in favor of the employment of Chinese on works subsidized by the local Government. In 1887, when the Legislature was chartering a railway almost every week, and subsidizing them with grants of public lands and special privileges, such as relief from taxation, etc., Hon. ROBERT BEAVEN moved to insert a clause in each bill prohibiting the employment of Chinese in the work of construction. The clause read:

"This Act is passed upon the express understanding that no Chinese, either directly or indirectly, shall be employed in or about, or concerning any work or services authorized by this Act, or required by the company to be done or performed. In the event of any Chinese being employed by the company, the company shall be liable, upon summary conviction before any two Justices of the Peace or functionary having the power of two Justices of the Peace, upon the oath or affirmation of one or more creditable witness or witnesses, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars, or less than ten dollars for every Chinese employed, etc."

In the division lists—for there were four or five on this question—the name of Hon. J. H. TURNER stands out prominently among the nays to this motion by Mr. BEAVEN. He was not in favor of "hampering" the companies, which were receiving bounties from the Province, with any restrictions of the kind. He was opposed to legislation in the interest of the citizen as against the alien, and of course he voted consistently. And now Mr. TURNER is going around, hat in hand, to the white workingmen soliciting their votes. Mr. TURNER has more than the average amount of "cheek."

NEW WESTMINSTER DISTRICT.

The Vancouver World recently published a column and a half of maclagganized rubbish about the amount of public money expended in New Westminster district during the years that Mr. BEAVEN was in office compared with an equal term of ROBSON'S misrule. The World is heavy on figures, which, unlike the mathematicians who use them, are supposed never to lie. But the World is not always truthful, notwithstanding the character of its editors for veracity, although its frequent lapses are perhaps mistakes rather of the head than the heart.

It will, perhaps, be news to the World to learn that the BEAVEN Government spent more money on public works (exclusive of the dry dock) than was spent before or since, by any other government during the same number of years. One of our authorities for this statement is the editor of the World, who, before he was hypnotised, was frequently in the habit of challenging his morning contemporary the Colonist, to dispute the truth of his assertion.

We have before us a copy of the Standard of November 23, 1874, and we find therein an extract from the New Westminster Herald, a paper edited by BROWN, the present independent candidate for New Westminster city. Mr. BROWN shows very clearly which party was the better friend to the district and which pursued the more progressive policy for the Province. We quote Mr. BROWN'S language:

Two years ago, although those who carefully watched the signs of the times, could see unmistakable evidence of a solid prosperity in the city and district of New Westminster, there was a little to suggest to the careless observer any hope of recovery from the chronic stagnation and slow decay which, in common with other parts of the Province, this district had suffered for many years. Trade was dull, money was scarce; in our streets and public places, the pleasant monotony of "old familiar faces" was seldom broken by the countenance of a stranger—and when it was so, you had generally but to enquire of the next man you met, who the new comer was, in order to hear that he "came down country last boat" or "works over at the Inlet." In the district little was heard of new settlers, and it must be confessed that the difficulties which, at every turn met the seeker after land, were enough to daunt any but the most persevering. At such a crisis it was immensely important that the Government of the country should, by an enlightened and progressive policy, lend a stimulus to the struggling energies of the people. Nearly all were willing to concede that there was an immense amount of fertile, cultivable land unoccupied in the district, but no definite information concerning it was obtainable, nor was it accessible without great fatigue and expense. There were no roads—no provided highways—that is, along the banks of our rivers and lakes. Here, then, was a field for the explorer, the surveyor, the roadmaker; and, for the first time in her history, British Columbia had a Government which could comprehend the necessities of the situation, and which was not afraid to grapple with them. Early in 1873, the explorer, the surveyor, the roadmaker, were afield, and, month by month the Government found itself more and more able to assist and direct the efforts of settlers to find a suitable homestead. Nor were the settlers wanting. More pre-emption claims were taken up in New Westminster during the spring and summer of 1872 than in the four or five preceding years. Two years ago we could not count a dozen miles of good road in the district, outside the city limits; now we have, nearly completed, a fine wagon road from one end of the district to the other, while a number of shorter roads are completed, under construction, or to be undertaken as soon as circumstances will permit. Two years ago, with the exception of a few patches here and there, the district was unsurveyed, and the pre-emptor searching for land had nothing to guide him save public rumor and casually obtained information; nay, more, when he had found and taken up his land, he could not be certain that he was not encroaching on the previously-acquired rights of others, and it has not unfrequently happened that three or four men have claimed the same piece of ground. Now, twenty-three townships, each containing thirty-six square miles of land, have been surveyed in this district alone, and a large amount of useful and definite information as to the situation and character of land, can be obtained at every land office in the country. This is a good record, and the people appreciate it, the rapid growth of confidence in the future of the district—the new industries and new enterprises which are being undertaken on all hands—the tone of solidity and permanency that pervades every section of the community—abundantly prove.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A speculator has offered to sell to the Chicago Exposition the mummified body of CLEOPATRA. If the Chicago exhibitors could make sure that the body offered them was really CLEOPATRA'S it would undoubtedly prove a fetching card. But there is no evidence that the mummified corpse in the hands of the aforesaid speculator, is, or was, the beautiful Queen whom ANTONY went wild over. There is as good evidence to show that CLEOPATRA figured in AGUSTUS CESAR'S triumph at Rome as that she died from the effects of the sting of the asp and was subsequently embalmed after the orthodox Egyptian fashion. In the days of AGUSTUS CESAR fallen greatness commanded no respect. No one cared what became of tyrants when they ceased to be a factor in events. If CLEOPATRA figured in in AGUSTUS CESAR'S triumph, the chances are that like ZENOBIA she ceased to attract interest, and that when she died she was permitted to undergo the process of disintergration peculiar to common folks.

With regard to the request of the News that the TIMES should explain what "we" (the News) "would gain" by slinging mud at the Government, there is a maxim for the regulation of conduct upon which the public opinion is agreed, and that is that it always "pays to act the gentleman." Theoretically this doctrine is all right. We will go further and admit that practically it is all right. The experience of most men, however, is to the effect that the doctrine of good for evil, like the rules of Syntax, is subject to perplexing exceptions, that retaliation, in fact, is sometimes indispensible to insure a wholesome regard for individual rights. Nothing is more certain than that all men are not gentlemen, and nothing is more certain than that where this failing is owing to inherent defect of character magnanimity is labor lost. Now, we do not wish to urge that the Premier is constitutionally incapable of acting like a gentleman, but we do urge that the Premier in making Mr. COTTON a target for mud slinging in conjunction with his alleged betrayal of Mainland interests is adding insult to injury. It is for Mr. COTTON to decide whether this is owing to some constitutional defect of the Premier's or not. If he is satisfied that the Premier is constitutionally incapable of being a gentleman let Mr. COTTON preserve the tranquility of spirit of the true philosopher. If, on the other hand, Mr. COTTON has reason to believe that the Premier's unfortunate propensity for slinging mud is purely gratuitious, is the consequence of political exigencies, is the resultant of the sad necessity of having to stand for two constituencies to insure a seat in the House, then let Mr. COTTON "toss a little mud back." The spectacle will not be edifying, but it will be amusing, and possibly it will have the effect to make the Premier more careful in future. The News has always used the Premier courteously. On no occasion that we remember has the News reinforced its opposition to Mr. ROBSON by resorting to the muck heap. That the honorable gentleman, therefore, reeking with the slime of the "filthy pool," should, with reference to so unconsequential a matter as redistribution proceed to unload himself on the unlucky scribe is unfortunate, not alone in the sense of being ungentlemanly, but as showing the character of the man the Cariboo Silvertians have endorsed. Aye, further, it proves conclusively that the News itself none too soon abandoned its whilom on having discovered the error of its ways before it was too late, and we also applaud the high toned resolution it has taken to treat the Premier as if he were a gentleman. Still, situated as the News is, having been made the victim of a confidence game as the News has been, the old Adam within us, we believe, would prompt us to retaliate on the Premier in kind.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Colonist is Single Tax mad. The symptoms are daily growing worse, and the probability is that the organ will die of single-tax-phobia on the 13th instant.

The organ is generally understood to draw its inspiration on the Single Tax from Capt. IRVING, who disingenuously stated on the platform that "he didn't know a blanked thing about." The terrible muddle that is being made of this contest on this question by the Colonist cannot be explained on any other hypothesis.

It has been suggested that at the meeting of the Government candidates that Capt. IRVING should ask Mr. TURNER to explain his reasons for employing American steamers to carry freight from canneries on the Fraser and Skeena when C. P. N. Co.'s steamers could have been secured for the purpose. Mr. TURNER might direct his attention, in his reply, to the patriotic phase of the question, while Captain IRVING could dilate on its economic side, and show, as we believe he can, that the Finance Minister would not have lost any money by encouraging home enterprise.

"What Mr. DUCK knows about Sunday laws," ought to be a very excellent text for one of our local clergymen—Mr. MACLEOD, for instance, or Mr. STARR. We mention the names of these two clergymen, because they are more accustomed to "shooting error as it flies," than are their colleagues of the pulpit—that is, they make a practice of denouncing the current wickedness by special application of their remarks to special cases. Here is an instance that is worse than "corporal punishment," and yet we have never heard that anyone of the clergymen of the city has handled it as it ought to be handled. The inference drawn by ignorant people from the silence of the pulpit, it is not unreasonable to infer, is, that Mr. DUCK may not after all have been far wrong.

The Montreal Star is of the opinion that if the W. C. T. U. could induce all women to join their movement the cause of temperance would triumph in a short time. We doubt it. What woman in the matter of temperance is not a W. C. T. U. in principle? Is not the whole influence of every good wife and mother bent in the direction of temperance reform? The drinking habit lays too deep to be affected by woman's influence alone. It has a basis in a desire to enjoy an exhilaration of spirit which cannot be extracted from purely normal recreations. Woman's "bright smile" is decidedly tonic but unfortunately she does not smile all the time, whereas in the "smile" of whiskey there is a sense of exaltation or indifference to mundane cares. It seems to us that the worry and the wear and tear of life is largely responsible for intemperance. With the amelioration of social conditions, and not before, do we anticipate anything radical in the way of temperance reform.

Considerable indignation is being manifested in the States over the inquisitorial powers vested in the census enumerators, and particularly in the matter of their inquiry after the condition of one's bodily health. The demurrer to such questions seems to be well taken, for aside from the fact that disease is a feature which lies between the patient and the attending physician, the utter inability of people suffering from any ailments to diagnose their cases renders all such testimony exceedingly unreliable. The idea is a good one, if it could be carried out, but it cannot. Let people answer interrogatories of this character as honestly as they may, unless the enumerator is an unusually shrewd physician, the information is not worth the the trouble of transcribing. It would be interesting, of course, to know just how many persons are ailing in the United States, but really, of what practical value is such information unless the true causes are forthcoming which have produced bodily disorder.

It may be presumed that this feature of the United States census will prove a distinguished failure.

The Truth groping around for political capital sapiently remarks that "the Hon. JOHN came over from the capital yesterday and that his cheerful countenance indicates the utmost confidence in the result of the elections." We are of the opinion that the refulgence of Honest JOHN'S countenance arises more particularly from the fact that his election is assured. With two constituencies behind him, one of them enamored to him by virtue of his happy faculty of dispensing appropriations where they will do the most good, he can afford to rise superior to the doctrine of Chances. But aside from the elasticity of spirit incident to a pocket expansive enough to carry the Siwashan, what does the Truth expect to gain by giving the noble pen a Rebecaian cheerfulness contagious? Will the mere fact that Honest JOHN'S equanimity has not been disturbed by the vicious assaults of the Columbian deter men from voting against him? Rebecaian effulgence just now, aside from a sense of personal security, is like the sunshine reflected from a glacier; there is a chill about it. It glitters, but it is cold. It is the mockery of genial warmth. It is the nonchalance peculiar to men in their extremity.

ANOTHER POLICY WANTED.

To the Editor.—A writer in the Colonist asks for the publication of the platform of the leaders of the Opposition. The suggestion is very good in its way, but it does not go far enough. There are four Government candidates in the field—Messrs. Turner, Dieck, Dalby and Irving. Mr. Turner is a cabinet minister, one who is supposed to have a platform. But I fail to see it in either the columns of the Colonist or the Times. Neither of these gentlemen has as yet addressed the electors, and I see they have deferred their first meeting almost to polling day. How is this? Do they want to sneak into the House without explaining their views? Or perhaps they think free editorial advertising by the Colonist is cheaper than publishing addresses in the newspapers. The Opposition candidates have addressed the electors twice; the Government candidates have not spoken once. By all means let the Opposition publish their platform, but the Government candidates must do likewise. When addresses are made in print, they stick; when mumbled from a platform they are forgotten, or denied, or disavowed an hour afterward. Come out, Mr. Turner, over your own name, or I, for one, shall conclude that you are afraid either of putting your foot in it or of the expense. Perhaps the latter. A New Voter.

WHAT IS ALL THE ROW ABOUT?

To the Editor.—What does all this fuss about corporal punishment amount to? Two or three boys have been whipped and not very severely, as far as I can see. Nobody but a lot of old women would think of running to the newspaper, or the parson with cases like these. Discipline must be maintained in the schools, and that can't be had among a lot of half grown boys without corporal punishment. I hear that the biggest brawler among the lot can't keep a child of three years old in order without whipping him. How then is a woman to keep a lot of unruly boys at their lessons and under control without having the whip to resort to in extreme cases? The whipping to be effective must hurt. From what has been before the public none of the boys about whom such a row has been kicked up has been at all hurt. The "rawhide" that there has been so much talk about is, I am told, nothing more than a lady's riding whip, and in the hands of a woman could not inflict injury at all serious. A great deal of harm will be done to the schools by this gushing sympathy with boys, who very likely did not get half what they deserved. The birch has been freely used in better schools than any Victoria may ever expect to have, and the boys have grown up manly, honorable men, who would scorn to enter into a contest with a weak woman. Citizen.

A BRAZEN SCRIBE.

To the Editor:—Whatever hidden virtues the scribe of the Government street sheet may possess, that of truth is one that never found a resting place in his composition. It is natural to suppose that an All Wise Providence intended that some of the specie called man should be thus organized, while those blessed with this divine attribute hold in pity and do not blame so poorly a constructed piece of human mechanism, framed to know no better. On what subject (other than Government), handled politically, by this master mind, it is a notable truth, any expression pointing to a change stamps the promoters unworthy of being dealt fairly with, the science of lying being a cardinal virtue of this Ananias of the Government street sheet. It appears that wisdom's only retreat is to be found in the brainless attic of this degenerate scribe. The sheet this morning says: That at the workingmen's meeting last Friday night, John Grant stated that he considered Henry George's principle of single tax a fair and equitable basis of taxation. This is a false accusation and the degenerate scribe knows it. John Grant said this which the degenerate scribe seems to have forgotten.

"Some of the principles of the single tax he could not see his way clear to. For instance," said he, "suppose a man has a piece of land worth say $10,000; he wishes to sell it to a working man, who has toiled hard for probably twenty years to save this amount, who buys just before the single tax becomes law. Would it be fair to ruin him by imposing a tax that would sweep the fruits of his hard years of toil from him, while the party selling the land could pocket his money and do what he pleased with it. Now, if this brazen, degenerate scribe, or his masters, in whose interest this sheet is run, will prove that John Grant did not use words to this effect, I will donate one hundred dollars to the Government committee to be used to bolster up their cause or to any institution in need of it. Justice.

Suddenly a staging upon which there were three men gave way, and then fell to the ground. A shout of horror went up as the men bounded from the projecting part of the steeple, and whirled with fearful velocity to the pavement, and for a moment after they struck the ground everyone feared to go near them. When they were taken up it was found that nearly every bone in their bodies was broken, and the flesh so mangled as to defy recognition.

CITY AND PROVINCIAL.

ST. GEORGE'S PICNIC.

The Society's Annual Sports to be Held on Dominion Day.

A general meeting of the St. George's Society was held last evening, and the subject discussed was the best day and date to hold the picnic and sports of the society. It was decided that the event should come off on Dominion Day at the Caledonian Grounds, Beacon Hill. A committee of management was appointed, as were sub committees to make all arrangements. The picnic this year will be one of the best ever given. A special and liberal prize list will be offered, and every effort made to have the event a big success.

The following is the general committee appointed: Hon. Mr. Justice Drake, Messrs. Geo. Powell, G. Fairbrother, W. T. Drake, J. B. Lovell, J. Braden, C. E. Redfern, W. Haynes, R. J. Styles, H. Mansell, J. Fell, G. Mesher, A. W. Barnett, J. Hepworth, J. Dewsnap, W. Harrison, G. Thompson, W. Huxtable, H. W. Sheppard, W. Shears, G. W. Whitmarsh, and H. A. Lavin.

Agricultural.

The Cowichan and Salt Spring Island Agricultural Society has issued its prize list for 1890. The exhibition—a horticultural, dog and poultry show—will be held at Duncan's Station on July 1st.

He is Not There.

Mr. A. J. Rowbotham, who formerly did business at 113 Douglas street, announces in another column that he is no longer there, having purchased Mr. J. C. Devlin's business, corner Yates and Broad streets.

The Amphion.

H. M. S. Amphion is now nearing completion and it is expected that she will be floated early next week. The rest of her compartments is proving very satisfactory and the new plates are being scraped and recoated.

Tinsmiths and Cornice Makers.

The meeting of the tinsmiths and cornice makers called for last evening did not materialise on account of the small attendance. A general meeting has been called for next Friday evening when business of a particular nature will come up for discussion.

Political Meeting.

The Opposition candidates will address the electors to-night in the Victoria Theatre. Mayor Grant will be the first speaker, followed by Dr. Milne and Mr. Richards, the Hon. R. Beaven closing the meeting. The political situation will be pretty thoroughly reviewed, and no doubt some of the speakers will refer to the single tax question.

Natural Causes.

It was reported to the police on Friday that an Indian in a house on Herald street had died under suspicious circumstances. Investigation was made, and it was ascertained that the child had apparently been all right the day before, but died about 8 o'clock the next morning. Some dark blue marks on its back and shoulders were thought by the Indians to be marks caused by blows. Dr. Milne was called in by the police, and he at once saw that death was the result of natural causes and gave a certificate to that effect.

A Dock Full of Drunks.

A string of five drunks, four of whom were old timers, were marched into the city police court this morning, and took their places in the dock. Mary, an Indian, the first called, pleaded guilty, but did not have the necessary forthwith and she will consequently serve the provincial government for one month, although she has not got a vote. Two other Indian women, both of the same name as the former, paid $5 each and were allowed to depart.

The balance of the culprits, two men, also pleaded guilty and were fined the old stereotyped V. Four out of the five were arrested by Officer Robt. Walker yesterday afternoon.

A Nefarious Business.

It is reported that an old Indian fisherman of Whatcom, Wash., employed two white men to go to Chilliwhack, B. C., with his squaw to get $500 which he claimed was coming to him. He wanted the men to go along to protect her from the Indians. Both the men have returned to Whatcom, and one of them, John Newson, stated that on their arrival at Chilliwhack a hotel keeper informed him the woman was there for no other purpose than to steal Indian girls and take them to Washington, where it was presumed she made a business of selling them. The hotel keeper said she had recently taken two young squaws, and it was thought she had come to get a baby belonging to one of them. Newson and his partner, who were to get $3 a day for their work, considered that there was some likelihood of their being arrested, and so they returned to Whatcom.

Overlanding Vessels.

Inquiry now in progress by the Board of Trade into the loss of the National line steamship Erin is being pursued in the direction of ascertaining if the vessel was not overloaded. Suspicion has long been entertained in official quarters. Anent this subject London Truth submits the following statistics for the benefit of the "gentlemen who opposed the Load Line Bill in the House of Commons: Italy loses annually one seaman in every 400; France, one in every 330; Germany, one in every 225; Norway and Sweden, one in every 170; and England, one in every 84. It seems incredible that in Christian England men could be found who should oppose so salutary a measure as this. It is nevertheless the fact, and [illegible] of these [illegible] that on the Great Day of reckoning some fine distinctions drawn as to which are the least responsible for the drowning of some thousands of British seamen.

Never Been Before.

Some of the most unique designs in spring cloth, for gentlemen's wear, New line of spring suitings displayed for first time in Victoria by Campbell & Scrimgeour, the fashionable Government street Tailors.

A Town Clock.

The city clerk calls for tenders for supplying a town clock in good running order. The clock will be placed in the tower which is now under construction on the east side of the City Hall and although not as high as could be desired will afford a good view from almost all parts of the city.

An Asset.

The city last night became possessed of an asset not allowed for in the yearly accounts. It is a fine mare colt, which was foaled by one of the animals used on No. 1 hook and ladder truck. The youthful equine is of good breed, and if brought up well should be a very valuable animal. Its dam is one of the most intelligent in the department.

An Amateur Prize Fight.

The quiet little town of Esquimalt received a shock last evening in the way of excitement. Two bluejackets who, for some time have been arguing who was the better man came to conclusions and stripped off on one of the vacant lots just outside the burg. The two went at it for some time in a perfectly professional style and punished one another severely before time was called.

Annual Picnic.

The school children of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and their friends had their annual picnic at Langford Plains to-day, and a right royal day they had for it. The first train, which consisted of four coaches, went out at ten o'clock with about three hundred persons on board, mostly children. Two other trains followed at 11:30 a. m. and 2 o'clock this afternoon, each of which carried a large number of passengers.

Regarding Clearances.

In the past it has been customary for the masters of small coasting craft to get a clearance at the customs and then not go to sea for days, even ten or twelve days expiring before leaving harbor. This is not in accord with the spirit of the act, as clearing is supposed to be the final work of a vessel. In the future it is understood that new regulations regarding clearances will come into force, and unless a vessel leaves within a stated time after clearing, her papers will be called in again, and she must be cleared once more. This is a highly necessary move, and has been contemplated for some time.

From Cariboo.

Mr. Geo. Veith, of Keitley Creek, Cariboo, arrived in the city last night. Mr. Veith is on his annual business trip to the city for the purpose of purchasing supplies for the firm (Keith & Borland) and brought down a considerable quantity of gold dust with him. He has nothing of particular importance to report from the district. His firm has just made a contract with the Hudson Bay Company to pack freight from the head of the Skeena to Stewart's lake and other posts in the interior. His partner, Mr. Borland, has gone in with 150 animals to do the work. The freight to be packed amounts to about 300,000 pounds. Mr. Veith being asked by a reporter who were liable to be elected in Cariboo, said "It looked now as though it would be Mason, Robson and Pinchbeck, but don't," said he, "say I told you."

Explanatory.

U. S. Consul Myers has been quoted in the despatches from Washington, D. C., as having reported to his department that unless spies were furnished to aid the Canadian Customs authorities, smuggling of Chinese into the States would increase. He is also reported with having said that the officials here watched a steamer taking Chinese out, but were not able to stop her. In connection with this Consul Myers says that he was surprised that such an unfortunate and inaccurate report should have been published, reflecting, as it did through him, on the Canadian officers. He is extremely mortified over the matter, and will correspond with the authorities at Washington to learn, if possible, how such a report got about. Since his stay here Mr. Meyers states that he has found the Canadian Customs officials courteous and energetic, as well as most gentlemanly in giving all the help in their power to him, and he deplores that he should be quoted as having given authorship to such statements as appeared.

A Good Suggestion.

At the last Board of Aldermen meeting a report was read from Chief Engineer Deasy, concerning the status of the department under his charge. He also made some very valuable suggestions concerning a more efficient arrangement of the fire apparatus, pointing out that at present the two fire halls were in close proximity, and in the center of the city. This left the suburbs in a measure unprotected, and he suggested that the Deluge house on Yates street be disposed of and others built in the outlying portions of the city, say one at the upper end of Fort street, one at Work Estate and one at James Bay. These buildings could be used as hose reel houses, and in the event of fire in the districts protected by them, the hose reels could be quickly got into service, so time being lost by a long run as is now the case. The hydrant streams in all parts of the city are now very effective, and would be quite sufficient for ordinary fires without the aid of the steamers. Alarms could then be replied to by the hose company nearest without all the department turning out, and much wear and tear would thereby be saved. If the fire needed the whole force, it could be easily called by a general alarm. This system prevails in all eastern cities and works well. It looks ridiculous, to say the least, to see the whole fire department, hose carriages, steamers, hook and ladder truck and all, trooping to a fire that only consists of some blazing soot in a dirty chimney. With the system proposed by the Chief a great deal of trouble and expense would be avoided.

Saturday Concerts.

Arrangements are being made by the Victoria band to play at Beacon Hill on Saturday afternoon, alternating with C Battery band. The Victoria band is a first class one, its members are musicians, and show that under the leadership of Mr. Geo. Pauline they have been instructed and drilled. They will be well supported, for the Saturday afternoon concerts are certainly a fine feature.

Jubilee Hospital.

This afternoon the first meeting of the new board of directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital was held at the rooms in the institution. Election of officers, and the question of supplies was the business before the new board. A great deal of correspondence was dealt with, and at the time of going to press the meeting was still in session, therefore it was impossible to get the results of the elections in time for publication.

A New Lighthouse.

Mr. A. Bittencourt returned to Nanaimo yesterday from Baynes Sound where he has been engaged during the past few months in erecting a new lighthouse. The new lighthouse is a building 40 feet high to the top of the tower, the interior being divided into four rooms. There is also a dwelling attached, 14x28, and adjoining this is a boat house, 20x12; also an oil house 10x12, where the oil will be stored for the lights. The woodwork is completed and all that now remains to be done is the plastering.

Mr. Carey's Meeting.

A meeting called by Mr. J. W Carey was held at the Saanich Agricultural Hall last evening, Mr. S. Sandover in the chair. The Government candidates Messrs Eberts and Anderson were present by invitation and also addressed the meeting. An elector who was present says it was a lively meeting and that the other candidates did not get anything the better of Mr. Carey. He beleives the latter will be elected. He says that when Mr. McIlmoyl retired and refused to run, it opened people's eyes. They commenced to think whether they had always been doing right. A meeting will be held at the Royal Oak to-night.

Wellington Strike.

The miners at Wellington appear to be perfectly indifferent to the strike which at present prevails, says the Free Press. Many of them are to be seen lounging about on the green grass, fishing in the lake or some such quiet amusements. Everything is very quiet and the most perfect order prevails; they seem to be quite confident that the victory will be theirs, and some state they are determined to remain in their present condition for years if necessary in order to gain their demands. Although there are five special constables patrolling the district their duties are not likely to be called into active service. A few families who recently arrived from the old country and were in straightened circumstances, have received the necessary relief from the Association, and a committee has been selected to attend to all wants of this description.

Comox News.

At present this settlement is all agiew owing to the arrival of the diamond drill which they expect will make them all rich. The bore will be put down on A. McKelvie's property first.

The two candidates and their supporters are quite earnest in their candidature, even to pugilistic principles. One voter in particular who capsizes the English language every time he speaks, nearly capsized the whole of McPhee's supporters. Then having been ejected from B. & T. store, he concluded that 25 cents would be a good investment in the Cliffe House, as usual pulling out a "fifty" dollar bill to settle the shot. The next scene was the change and a wheelbarrow going across the bridge. This took place last Wednesday night. The election looks as though it will be a very close contest, both candidates feeling sure of electing.

Mr. J. Grant's new hotel at Riverside is progressing to completion, and promises to be an elegant hotel.

The crops are looking well throughout the settlement, while the general health is good.

Matters at Union Mine are moving along as usual.

Report says the diamond drill at Union will be removed towards Big Lake. The last bore was down about 800 feet according to reports, but had to be abandoned owing to the caves-in of the shale.

Mass Meeting at the Theatre on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock to be held by the Opposition.

NAUTICAL NOTES.

Items of Interest Along the Water Front—General Marine News.

The steamer Lakme is due from Portland to-morrow.

The City of Puebla leaves for San Francisco to-morrow morning.

The Government steamer Princess and the Falcon are on the beach undergoing repairs.

The Umatilla arrived from San Francisco last night with 251 passengers for different ports and 190 tons of freight for this city.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The steamer Alameda, which arrived to-day from Sydney, reports having made the trip down in 17 days, 22 hours, 45 minutes, beating all previous records from this city.

The Chicago Columbus Tower.

"A party of Chicago capitalists," says the Post Intelligencer, "have projected a Columbus Tower which will eclipse the Eiffel affair. These capitalists do not ask for assistance from any quarter, nor do they claim that they are being actuated by charity, public spirit or patriotism. It is a pure and simple money making scheme." The Chicago "affair" will describe substantially as follows: "It is to be substantial and permanent. The base is to be 480 feet in diameter, and 500 feet high. It is to be a metal building, in which will be a hall for music and assemblies that will accommodate 50,000 people, and also a grand hotel, with fully four thousand apartments. Surmounting this building will be a tower, the summit of which will be fifteen hundred feet above the main floor. Their will be eight elevators in the first hundred feet of the main building, four in the second hundred feet, and two will ascend to the top of the tower. The lighting of the whole structure will require not less than fifteen thousand electric lights—perhaps more. From top to bottom there will be no combustible material used in its construction. The ventilating apparatus will of itself be a study. The plumbing—but hold! That is an unrevealed mystery. How a building of such dimensions, aiming to supply every conceivable comfort and convenience, can keep the plumbing bill alone within the above estimate of two millions is the marvel of the age."

THE JURY SYSTEM IN QUEBEC.

The attention of the Montreal Herald has been called to Mr. H. J. CLORAN'S report on the jury system, a pamphlet of 132 pages, "and showing," says the Herald "that the jury system in this Province," (Quebec) "as compared with that in the other provinces of Canada, and in the United States, is sadly defective." Speaking of the qualifications of petit jurors, Mr. CLORAN says:

"Among the first requisites in a petit jury are intelligence, education and a high sense of citizen responsibility, and strange to say there is a law on the statute book of this Province which actually eliminates the vast bulk of the intelligence, education, responsibility, influence and wealth of the community from the jury box. Only persons of limited means and opportunities can be called upon to give their services to the Province in the administration of criminal justice, in its highest and most responsible form."

It is apparent that the increasing complexity of the social system and the catalogue of crimes issuing therefrom, in which various considerations are involved, calls for reform in the jury system, not alone in Quebec, but in whatever region British jurisprudence prevails.

"The law actually excludes from serving on petit juries all persons in towns and cities who own real estate above $2,000 or pay an annual rental above $300. In Bonaventure and Gaspe, the limit is $1,000 and $100 respectively; and in all other parts of the Province $2,000 and $150. Now, although the possession or occupancy of real estate above the sums mentioned is not an absolute guarantee of fitness for jury service in respect of education, intelligence integrity and sound judgment, still it can readily be seen that the law necessarily excludes from such service a large class of educated, responsible and intelligent men. In addition to this the law makes a difference in the qualifications of grand and petit jurors which should not be made. The duties of the latter are greatly more serious and difficult than those of the former, whereas the law assumes the opposite. Indeed, it is becoming a question in many places if the grand jury might not be abolished altogether.

Thought.

How wonderful are the laws of thought! With what strange sympathy are persons, separated from each other by space and position, led at once to the same train of thought and feeling! If we earnestly give our souls to any subject we find others at the same time taking similar views. There must be actions of mind on mind, more subtle than those of electricity, connecting links unfelt, unseen, which bind human hearts and human souls in the same brotherhood of thought and feeling. It seems that human thought and emotion, unwritten and unspoken, can influence kindred souls. 'Tis not only a dream of superstition that we hold converse with the dead, or with those we Love in distant lands, even now our minds o'erpass the limits of time and space.—H. J. Black.

To-day's Recreations.

A large number went out to the Driving Park this afternoon to see the five mile race between Shaw's Dart and Morgan the bicyclist.

Several went up to the Gorge at two o'clock on the steamer Florence. She goes up again at seven this evening.

The picnic at Langford Plains was largely attended. Several drove out this afternoon.

Right of Way.

One of the drivers of public vehicles in Victoria seems impressed with the idea that it is rare fun to run a bicyclist off the street and into the side of the road. The funny drivers then grin with delight to see the unfortunate wheelman making wild efforts to land safely. Perhaps if one of the funny ones was convinced by a healthy fine in the police court that a bicyclist has a right to his side of the street when riding, the trick of running one off the road would not seem so ludicrous.

Fire Engine Wheels.

A communication has been received from Merryweather & Sons, manufacturers of the John Grant steam fire engine, one of the hind wheels of which broke some time ago. Messrs. Merryweather regret extremely that such an accident occurred, and explain it by stating that the wheels on the Grant were not built by them but by an outside firm, as the wheelwright shop connected with their works was temporarily closed when that engine was built. They express themselves as willing to rectify the damage, and in a very courteous letter explain the matter at length.

Mrs. W. Clausen, Miss Estelle Hibben, and T. N. Hibben returned by the Umatilla from San Francisco. The latter has just completed a term at Santa Clara College.

SPORTING NOTES.

Brief Resume of Sporting Matters Here and Elsewhere.

The proposed match between Joe McAuliffe and Jake Kilrain for the $3,000 purse offered by the Puritan Club, New York, is off. Kilrain was willing to go ahead with the negotiations, but McAuliffe, on account of the match made recently with Slavin, was compelled to call it off. He leaves for England next week.

The proposed fight between Jack Ashton and Joe Choynski is not likely to take place in San Francisco, as Ashton demands a $3,000 purse to the winner, and the California club will give but a $2,000 purse. A fight between Joe Lannon and Choynski is talked of.
